Fairhaven House Policies

Entry Requirements

Living in Fairhaven House homes is an opportunity to promote change. Members must be involved in activities to promote changes in their life. If at any time the Program Director or House Manager does not feel a member is making progress, a meeting will be held with the Program Director to review their progress and to see if continued residency at Fairhaven House will be granted. An example of not making progress in recovery is if a member spends all day watching TV instead of doing productive activities, i.e. going to twelve step meetings, attending more than one Bible Study, volunteering time at meeting hall, feeding the homeless, etc.

Applicant must agree to a Criminal Background Check. If it is determined that an applicant who has become a member has been dishonest on any portion of their application, membership will be terminated immediately with no refund for membership dues.

Applicant must be willing to follow program rules and guidelines.

Applicant must have had limited housing options before coming to Fairhaven House.

Applicant must interview with the Program Director and/or House Manager and take an urinalysis and breathalyzer test prior to acceptance as a member. Failure to pass both tests will result in termination of any proposed membership arrangements.

Applicant must have no felony convictions of a sexual or violent nature. Any exceptions will be handled on a case by case basis.

Assault Policy Statement

It is the policy of Fairhaven House to prosecute all individuals who harm a staff person intentionally, regardless of the situation or location. This policy is essential to ensure the safety of all staff as well as to hold accountable the individual guilty of the assault. Any staff person assaulted is required to file a police report regardless of the incident.

Policy For Seizure

It is the policy of Fairhaven House to confiscate any items that are harmful to members or individuals living in the Fairhaven House home. Members found with possession of illegal drugs or paraphernalia will be reported to police and expelled from Fairhaven House immediately with no refund of membership dues or deposit.

Exit Policy – Personal Possessions

If a member ever chooses (or is required) to leave the Fairhaven House home, they have 3 days to remove all of their personal belongings. They may not drop by unexpectedly, but must call the House Manager and arrange a time to get the belongings. After 3 days, any unclaimed property will become part of Fairhaven House property to dispose of at its discretion. If a member leaves the premises because of failure to pay membership dues, and does not take the property with them at time of departure, the property becomes the possession of Fairhaven House.

Exit Policy – Membership Dues

If a member is required to leave the Fairhaven House home because of violation of rules, they are not entitled to a refund for any membership dues paid or deposits.

Program Expectations

You Are Expected To Act Like An Adult, which means:

To respect yourself, housemates, and staff. Complaining, backbiting, and rude behavior will not be tolerated.

To be honest and truthful and sincerely working on recovery.

To choose friends and activities that lead to your success. If the House Manager or Program Director feels your choice in friends are those who are not sober, you are subject to disciplinary action or expulsion from the house.

To obtain a job and/or educational goals within your first month as a member and maintain employment the entire time you stay at the house, unless the member is on disability.

To participate in household chores and duties as assigned.

To respect the moral values and standards of Fairhaven House at all times. Even though members are not required to be Christians upon entering a membership, they are required to have behavior that would not be contradictory to Fairhaven House standards or that directly challenges the Biblical principles of Fairhaven House.

To respect each other's right to confidentiality and privacy.

To focus on recovery, not on developing intimate relationships with the opposite sex.

Policy For Visitors

Any person that visits on a regular basis will be expected to fill out a visitor's information sheet. Their name will be run for criminal history and an outstanding warrant check. Any visitor with violent offenses within the past 5 years, or drug offenses in the last year, may be precluded from visiting. Any friends that are drinking or in active addiction will not be allowed on the property. If they come on Fairhaven House property they will be asked to leave or the police will be called.

Child Visitation Guidelines

Arrangements must be made with House Manager or Program Director prior to children residing or visiting the property. Waiver must be signed in advance.

Observed child abuse will be reported to child protective services.

Children under the age of 12 may not be left alone or in the care of other Fairhaven House members. School age children must be enrolled in school and attending daily.

Children must leave by 9:00 pm on Sunday thru Thursday and by midnight on Friday and Saturday nights.

Children are allowed to visit four times a month.

Fairhaven House Computer/Internet Usage

Each Fairhaven House member is assigned a unique login username and password by the Program Director. The password is not to be shared with any other member and is not to be changed by anyone except the Program Director.

Each Fairhaven House member is to log into their own personal user account prior to using a computer. Members are to log out of their account when they are no longer using a computer.

If members need to save data on the computer, they are to save it in their personal folder that can be found under the My Documents folder.

Members are not to visit any gambling, pornography, dating, or any other web sites that would be inappropriate for a faith-based house, this includes any personal computers.

Members are not to erase their browsing history. Members caught erasing their history are subject disciplinary action. Due to the fact that members are to log out of their user account when done using the computer, if there is inappropriate web sites found in the Internet browsing history it will be assumed that the member is one who visited the inappropriate site.

Disciplinary Action

If any member is found to be guilty of any of the above guidelines, they will be warned one time. On the second offense they will receive disciplinary action which may include the revoking of their membership. If a member has violated any Internet related laws, they are subject to having their membership revoked immediately and potential criminal charges.

Members who violate any of the above guidelines are subject to being permanently banned from using the Internet.

I have reviewed the above Fairhaven House Computer Policies and agree to abide by the policies contained herein:

Fairhaven House Medication Policy

Any member prescribed narcotics by a physician must have a letter from a physician acknowledging that the care-giver is aware that the patient is a recovering alcoholic or drug addict and that, in their professional opinion, there is no alternative or suitable non-narcotic pain medication for the condition. The letter ought also to state the length of time the patient should be on their prescribed medication.

All medication issues need to be brought to the attention of the House Manager including, but not limited to, narcotics or pain medication. A list of each member's medication type and dosages must be submitted by that member upon admission to the house to assist responders in the event of a medical emergency.

Taking prescription medication in any manner or dosage other than that prescribed is considered a relapse with appropriate consequences. Taking over-the-counter medications at a higher dosage or more frequently than the manufacturer recommends may be considered a relapse.

Sharing prescription medication or the taking of another member's medication, with or without their permission, is not only a relapse, it is against the law.

It is suggested that members keep their medications out of sight to avoid relapse triggering by other house members.

Members taking medications for mental health issues are stay on their medications unless they have a signed release from their doctor stating they no longer need to take their medications.
